

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election angers me.i

Since Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, it seems it needs to represent all points of view. A democracy cannot survive unless its areas of public education, like public libraries and the airways make certain that all information can be seen and heard in an unbiased way. That cannot happen if one group controls all the available outlets in a particular area. Media ownership regulations need to be strengthened.
